(By United Press.)

Dublin, May 20.—A political agreement for peace in Ireland has been signed by Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, and Eamonn De Valera, chief of the republicans, the speaker of the Dail announced today.

Belfast, May 20.—Murder gangs went about their grim work in Belfast during the night while the skies were lighted with the glare from seven fires started by arson squads.

Six persons were killed and 14 others wounded during the last 24 hours. All the dead and eight of the wounded are protestants.

This massacre followed the assassination of four catholics who were dragged from their beds and shot.

Sinn Feiners captured four police barracks in county Antrim. The Galymona railway station was set afire. A gang of incendiaries burned Shane's castle, the seat of Lord O'Neill. After the fire swept through the ancient building, tenants plunged into the smoke and rescued Lord O'Neill, 83, and his aged wife.

Others were killed when nine armed men pushed their way into a factory and questioned the workers about their religion. Four protestants were shot. Two died and another is dying.

As soon as the darkness came last night, shooting in the streets was resumed. One man was killed and four wounded by snipers.

BRITISH PREMIER
WILL CONSIDER HOME SITUATION ON ARRIVAL

(By United Press.)

London, May 20.—Lloyd George immediately upon his arrival here tonight from Genoa is expected to hold a political conference to ascertain just how strong his government is, and whether a general election is favorable.

Great crowds will greet the premier when he steps from the train. The political situation has been critical since the government's defeat in the house on the agitation bill.

In the absence of Lloyd George at the economic conference at Genoa, nothing has been done to force an issue. Whether the government is strong enough for a "showdown" will probably be decided by the premier in his conversations with his chief lieutenants here.

The body was burned in an open space near the railroad station with the mob in a circle around the pyre.

Owen was in jail on a charge of theft of automobile appliances. He offered to show the officers where the battery was hidden. Patrolman Groate accompanied him, and several blocks from the jail, the negro shot and killed the officer.

(By United Press.)

Polo Grounds, New York, May 20.—Babe Ruth was given a tremendous ovation as he appeared on the Polo grounds in a brand new uniform this afternoon. Urban Shocker, ace pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, struck the mighty Babe out his first time at bat. Ruth batted three in the first inning for the Yanks.

Chicago, May 20.—Babe Ruth, home run champion, barred from baseball since the start of the season, was reinstated today by Commissioner K. M. Landis.

Bob Meusel and Bill Piercey, who went on a barnstorm tour with Babe Ruth, were also reinstated. Babe Ruth, who was fined and suspended for playing exhibition games, after the close of the 1921 season, in violation of rules prohibiting world series participants from engaging post season games, petitioned the commissioner for the right to play at the expiration of his suspension at midnight last night.

Landis, in answer to Ruth's message, lifted the ban.

Telegrams received from Ruth, Meusel and Piercey were identical. They read:

"I hereby respectfully apply for immediate reinstatement to enable me to play here today, Saturday."

The reply of Landis read: "Your application granted effective immediately."

Landis then wired umpires who will officiate at the American League game in New York today, advising them of the reinstatement.

GIRL BURGLAR DRUGS
FIVE IN FAMILY AND DOG; LOOTS HOUSE

Minneapolis, May 20.—A girl burglar climbed through a second floor window at the W. A. Folsom residence, 3124 Holmes avenue S., early today, chloroformed five persons and a watchdog, ransacked the house and escaped with $60.

At 4 a. m. Mrs. Harry Foreman was aroused, found downstairs doors open, lights burning, the watchdog unconscious under the dining room table and four other persons in a drugged stupor. The print of a woman's shoe on the floor near an open window on the second floor, was the only clue to the burglar, except a half emptied three ounce bottle of chloroform, found in the upstairs hall.

"Major" a powerful Llewellyn setter owned by the Folsoms, tried to warn occupants that someone was prowling about the house early in the evening, but his whines were disregarded.

At the time of the burglary, the person asleep in the house were Mr. Folsom, Miss Grace F. Folsom, a stenographer in the office of the clerk of the district court, his daughter, Harry H. Foreman, a cousin, and Mrs. Foreman and John A. Hussey, a roomer.

A severe blow to the amalgamation plans was given yesterday when President James A. Campbell, of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, announced withdrawal of his firm from the proposed merger.

Although Thomas L. Chadbourne, legal advisor to the consolidation council, declared the remaining companies would meet to determine the advisability of an "all or some of the companies" entering the consolidation, an abandonment of the merger plans is feared.

Campbell was considered one of the strongest links in the amalgamation chain. He had been chosen chairman of the board, and of the executive committee of the consolidation company.

Previous charges of Caraway that Daugherty was connected with the Morse case were recently denied by Senator Watson, of Indiana, who stated the attorney general had told him he did not have any connection with the case.

"The attorney general knew his statement to Senator Watson was untrue, said Caraway. "The attorney general did represent Morse."

"Jane says I paint—the horrid thing!" said this young lady to her chum.

"Well, never you mind what Jane says," the chum consoled her. "If Jane had your complexion, she'd paint, too."

They were passengers on a College car and were discussing some friends who had evidently not called recently.

"We've been there twice," she said, "since they were at our house."

"Well," returned the man, "I don't care. In fact, I'm rather glad of it. I like to read the paper once in a while. When we go there and they come to our house so much, I never know what is going on."—Indianapolis News.

200 PAY TRIBUTE TO REV. F. M. OHMS

Friends and Congregation Honor Popular Pastor and His Family
Friday Evening

SOON TO LEAVE BRAINERD
Lauded for Their Work in Behalf of Church and Presented With Silver Set (Contributed)

On Friday evening about 200 people gathered in the parlors of the Zion Evangelical church in honor of their pastor Rev. F. M. Ohms and his family who will leave us very soon for their new home in Danube.

Several talks were given by the representatives of the different branches of the church.

John Zander superintendent of the Sunday school spoke of the wonderful way in which the Sunday school has grown in the past three years in as much as we now have not sufficient room in the church building to successfully carry on the work with the increasing number.

Miss Esther Krueger as vice president of the Y. P. A. told how greatly the Alliance had grown—pointing out that in these three years of Rev. Ohm's guidance there has been a complete alliance formed, consisting of the junior, intermediate and senior departments, each with a fine growing membership.

Mrs. John Zander, president of the Ladies Aid spoke of how at all times and in every way Rev. Ohms has worked for the glory of God alone. She said that she as president could see that the Aid had accomplished a great deal, and she felt that it was due very largely to the help of Rev. Ohms.

Chas. Brooks represented the prayer branch of the church. He told how Rev. Ohms has brought up the standard of the prayer meeting and has taught by his own example the wonderful value of prayer. He urged each member to help strengthen and build up the prayer meeting, for the prayer meeting is the foundation of the church.

Mr. Wooden, one of our members who because of his constant work with the pastor in all church duties very ably represented the church as a whole making us all feel how great a work Rev. Ohm's has, stating as one reason for his success has been his very fine ability of mixing and thereby entering whole heartedly in the work of all branches of the church.

Rev. Ohms responded—stating that although the work had been difficult yet they had greatly enjoyed it and through all has come to find the ties which hold them here very near and dear to both himself and his wife whom we have all come to love.

Rev. Ohms and family were presented with several beautiful pieces of silver from the church and friends and the Y. P. A. as a slight token of the kind and loving esteem in which we hold them.

The summons of Rev. Ohms to his new field came as a very great surprise and regret to both the people of the church and the pastor but as God's ways are not our ways we can do naught but pray for strength and ask God's blessings on our pastor and his family in their new field of labor.

A $25,000 Mistake—Whose?

ABOUT a year ago a woman of our acquaintance came into possession of a $25,000 cash insurance fund.

This money, which represented all of the deceased husband's estate outside of a modest home, was meant to protect the widow from want and to provide for the education of two young children.

Today practically all this money is gone—lost through promises of big returns by "get-rich-quick" operators.

Who was to blame? Certainly not the widow. She was inexperienced, torn with perplexity, and did exactly what she thought best. The husband made the fatal error of burdening her with too great a responsibility.

Our booklet, "Family Protection with Doubt Left Out" shows how to safeguard the future comfort of your loved ones. Ask for a copy.

SPEEDING NEW TARIFF BILL

INTERESTING figures based on reports received by the United States Employment Bureau show that because of the tremendous influx of foreign goods which are being sold in this country at prices less than they can be made here, a great number of American industries are closed down completely; many more are running only part time with a partial force; while others are reluctant to make any plans for increase of force until they know upon what basis they are going to have to meet foreign competition. It is asserted that the lack of a protective tariff is the greatest single factor now balking materially improved conditions in the industrial world with their attendant increase in employment.

In the summer months the slack in unemployment is generally taken up by the agricultural industry, but the indications are that it will not be so large a factor this year as in former years. The reports from all the agricultural states are to the effect that farmers are not employing help when they can possibly get along without it. This is probably due to the necessity of the farmers bringing their cost of production this year to the lowest possible figure. Reports agree that the supply of farm labor is in excess of the demand.

As an offset to the increase in employment in agricultural belts and in building trades there are widespread strikes in the textile and mining industries, and there seems to be no prospect of a settlement in the near future of the labor troubles in either of these industries.

The employment situation, for the reasons stated, may be said to have reached a point where there will probably be no real return to normal conditions until industry is assured of a protective tariff that will enable it to resume production in quantity and put back on the job many thousands of idle workmen. Republican Senators and Congressmen see this, and therefore the Senate is holding night sessions to speed the new tariff bill now under consideration.

OUR PUBLIC UTILITIES

As a people, we are too prone to neglect obtaining a comprehensive knowledge of our public utilities. As a people, we consider the public utility department only as the source of the water and electricity we use, and our interest in utilities may sometimes be too much in the rates charged and not enough in how the business is managed. The Water & Light Board, recognizing this fact to be more commonplace now than ever before, has taken the present as an opportune time to go before the public and relate something about this business of theirs. It is impossible to interest the public unless some particularly pertinent subject is at issue. Now that the people are asked to vote on an amendment to the charter and on a bond issue, no better occasion could have been chosen. The Board members are giving of their time to help instruct the people and the people should avail themselves of this and turn out at the meetings.

It is our understanding that the Board wants to get before the people and tell some things that we have not thought about but should think about. It is immaterial to the Water & Light Board, so far as its earnings or resources are concerned, whether the amendment and bond issues win or lose; but it is material now we vote because this vote will be interpreted as indicative of our choice of future policies and future methods to be followed in the matter of administration and rates. From that standpoint we should consider carefully what our Board members are trying to show us. Naturally, from long study they see justice, supported by the facts, in what they present and we should be calm in formulating our judgment until we have weighed all that is advanced.

DAUGHERTY AFTER THE GRAFTERS

SUCH a mass of evidence in fraudulent war deals was revealed to Congress by Attorney General Daugherty that an appropriation of $500,000 was allowed him with which to conduct prosecutions.

The auditing of all war contracts is proceeding as rapidly as possible in the War Department. Fifteen thousand such audits have been completed, and $13,000,000 collected in the adjustments that have been made. It is said that 276 of the cases have been turned over to the Department of Justice, and criminal prosecutions on a large scale are contemplated, involving huge sums of money. Mr. Daugherty believes that more than $100,000,000 may be returned to the Treasury when the cases are decided. Some of the millions that were handed out so prodigally by the Wilson administration will be saved for the taxpayers, and those guilty of fraud placed behind the bars.

FILIBUSTER TO DELAY TARIFF

EVERY day it is becoming more evident that the Democratic Senators are engaged in a filibuster to delay the passage of the tariff bill. Their object in doing this is plain. They figure that if the enactment can be postponed until after the elections, President Harding and the Republicans will be deprived of the advantage that would be theirs if they could give the manufacturers and workmen of the country the protection that is contained in the measure. Of course, this is the very cheapest kind of politics, but the utter lack of political issues has made the Democrats desperate and they will hesitate at nothing likely to give them a showing before the voters next fall.

THE ELY MINER is of the opinion that jail and workhouse sentences do more to curb the speeder than anything so far tried. "Killing of a moonshine-loaded driver before he starts on his trip," adds the Miner, "will also effectively check this kind of a murderous maniac."

WHEN former President Wilson called Senator James A. Reed a marplot, he probably remembered that Reed helped mar his plot to involve the United States in the League of Nations.

WATER & LIGHT
BOARD COMMENTS

The Water & Light Board has had a pamphlet printed in which it sets forth the purposes of the proposed amendment and bond issue to be voted upon May 25th. These pamphlets will be distributed to every consumer of water and light and all are urged to read it carefully. Beginning with the issue of the Dispatch for the 15th instant, we reprint a portion daily to make sure that all will study and learn. Special meetings will be conducted in different places about town where these questions can be discussed.

Summary

We have given five good reasons why the 6 mills should be levied. Ordinary good business practice alone demands that fire protection service shall pay an adequate return on the investment made for it. For the fire service rendered, we are presenting the minimum charge only, and we challenge any consulting engineer or expert in public utilities to show wherein we have over-rated or over-estimated in our figures. The present payment for this service is grossly in error and is not based on any accepted business method, even if it is the one used in other places.

The present fund is too small to permit adding more hydrants to the system, and too small for adequate street lighting; in a few months dark streets will be the rule again.

If the proper rate is paid for the fire-fighting service, the gain to the consumer will come to him in having the meter rate and the minimum charge lowered correspondingly.

Meter rates can not be lowered until receipts are increased. Since meters have been installed, private consumers have reduced their consumption to such an unheard of extent that it has become utterly impossible to lower the rate as was originally intended. Not until this streak of economy is broken and more water is used, unless help is obtained by receiving adequate hydrant rental, will it ever be possible to do otherwise with the rate than has been done.

What the present proposal means to you personally is that you will pay more in taxes and less for water used. The present total levy for all purposes is 92 mills. The 6-mill amendment raises this to 98 mills. That is, if your taxes amount to $100 now, next year they would amount to $106. If you are a minimum water consumer, your water bill would be reduced 25 per cent, of $3.00 per year. To such a person to vote the amendment would cost him nothing. If you are a minimum consumer and your taxes are, let us say, $60 this year, next year they will be $63.60, and you actually save $1.20 because your water costs you less. Many who use more than the minimum are also gainers, but each must figure that for himself. It will surprise you what an extraordinary large number of people would be gainers. By helping to lower the meter-rate you will help make things better for everybody and for the city.

There will be some who will have to pay more in taxes than they gain in meter rates. There is nothing wrong about that and nothing unusual. Brainerd is growing and we must keep up with it; people want more services; all of us surely want our streets lit; we get nothing anywhere unless we pay for it. When the times comes when a fund no longer is sufficient to meet the demands made upon it, then the people should be told about it and be given a chance to remedy it. That is our purpose in addressing you now. Do you want a defective situation remedied; if you do, vote yes.

BLOOMER DRESS FOR CHILD

Frock is Most Practical for Small Tot;
Many Are Made of Fancy Materials.

That the bloomer dress is the most practical type of frock for the small tot has been generally conceded by most mothers, and for that reason bloomer dresses are now shown in fancy materials, as well as in washable fabrics and, according to the stores, the demand for them is steadily increasing.

One company is featuring bloomer dresses in a variety of cotton fabrics which are guaranteed to launder perfectly and are developed along serviceable lines. These little dresses range in size from two to six years, and are made with an overblouse, introducing a square neck and short sleeves edged in a contrasting color, and trimmed with hand stitching.

Applied designs are also used to give dresses of this type, and are very attractive for the small child.

Designed for Contemplation.

Colorful Stripes
In Sweaters

The possibilities in color and design that present themselves in the popular sweater seem to have lingered until the present season, when suddenly they appeared to be exploited in a host of attractive models. From the slightest ornamental element to the full field of colored figures in Navajo effects, the sweater seems to have run the gamut of decoration.

Of special interest in the decorative development is the fearlessness with which stripes are now handled. Conscious of the danger of producing undesirable effects, the stripe in the sweater has always been the nightmare of the designer.

Today, however, the stripe has been tamed. Figuratively speaking, designers have taught it to "lie down and roll over," for the simple reason that they have mastered the elements of width and color. Indeed the numerous gorgeous results seem to indicate that they glory in their mastery.

A group of artistic sweaters with colorful stripes seen in one of the fashionable Fifth Avenue shops represented garments of silk, mohair, and silk and mohair mixed. Another shop exhibited the sweater shown here. It is a sport neck slipover of foreign alpaca yarn, Belgian lace stitch, with oriental colorings throughout the body and sleeves.

E. M. BRANDT PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER

Sentenced to Prison for Life by Judge C. W. Stanton of the District Court

FINAL CHAPTER IS WRITTEN

Special Grand Jury Found 2 Indictments, One Charging Murder of Two, One an Attempt to Kill

In district court before Judge C. W. Stanton late Friday evening, Ernest M. Brandt pleaded guilty to first degree murder of Mrs. J. S. McPherson. After the customary questioning by the judge and asked if he had any statement to make, Brandt was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The special grand jury summoned by Judge Stanton met at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon and late in the day returned two indictments:

The first charged Brandt with murder in the first degree in shooting and killing James S. McPherson, age 52, who was his wife's father; and Mrs. J. S. McPherson, age 72, who was his wife's grandmother.

The second indictment charged Brandt with attempting to kill J. B. McPherson, aged 77, who is his wife's grandfather.

The double murder and attempted murder formed the triple tragedy which took place at Barrows, five miles south of Brainerd, on May 8, when Brandt shot up the home of his wife's father and grandparents, where she had taken refuge when he could not provide for her.

The court appointed D. B. McAlpine of Ironton as attorney for Brandt. The murderer will leave Brainerd Sunday morning for Stillwater with sheriff Claus A. Theorin, there to serve out his sentence.

STIRS UP THE LOCAL CLUB

Then Removes His Disguise and Appears as C. E. Swayze and Gives Genuine American Legion Talk

At the weekly meeting of the Brainerd Rotary club a big surprise was sprung on the members by the entertainment committee.

A police officer appeared and conferred with Alderman H. F. Michael. Mr. Michael announced that an "I. W. W." was now in the city lockup and suggested that he be asked to appear and speak for ten minutes and give his version of our federal government and our local affairs.

The "Wobbly" was brought in—quite a tough-looking specimen—and for ten minutes indulged in a genuine agin-the-government speech. He assailed the employer of labor, the merchant, the banker, the golfer, and the automobile owner, and even the thrifty laborer received some ridicule.

Upon concluding, he quickly removed his disguise and there stood C. E. Swayze, of Cleveland, Ohio, of the National Speakers' Bureau of the American Legion, a genuine American who in this manner sought to expose some frailties and to instill patriotism and urge support for our government.

No surprise had ever been more complete; and because of some of the local jabs at members of the Rotary Club, the merriment occasioned by Mr. Swayze surpassed anything ever seen at a meeting. Quite a few legionnaires were present as guests. Mr. Swayze supplemented by a pleasing discourse pertaining to the American Legion.

WEST BRAINERD IS FOR CITY WATER

People of West Brainerd at Riverside School Hears Water and Light Board Speakers

NEED OF SPECIAL ELECTION

Board Gives People Every Opportunity to Learn of City's Public Utilities

Friday evening the Water and Light Board addressed the people of West Brainerd in the Riverside school. The people of West Brainerd are enthusiastic for water. They have heard that some people from other parts of Brainerd have said that they should not have water, and resentment is running very strong.

The board stated that a special election was desired for a number of reasons. The board wanted the people to have an opportunity to learn something about the city's public utilities and did not want the issues confused with any other subject. Since the issues required deep study and were important, it was justifiable to make a special feature of them.

The board wanted to get to laying new mains at the earliest date, because when cold weather sets in in the fall, the extra cost involved is enough to make one week in spring worth two in fall. An early start meant saving money. An early start meant putting men to work and relieving the unemployment situation. Already the price of pipe has gone up; but the board, hoping to be able to save money has already placed an order for the pipe to be needed if the vote on the bond issue is favorable. The order is at a lower price than the quotations that exist today. The order is subject to cancellation if the vote is unfavorable, but this was a most unusual favor extended to the board by the maker of the pipe, and the money the board can save by doing this will pay for two special elections. There were sufficient reasons to insist on a special election. Every day gained meant money gained. The board was paying for the election.

The meeting was a regular community affair. A luncheon was served at its conclusion.

SUSPICIOUS MAN CHASED BY POLICE

Brainerd police were summoned to the west end of Willow street where women reported a strange man crawling on hands and knees.

Cop went down in a taxi and found a burly negro in the grass. "Get Up! Stand Up!" said Officer Abrahamson.

"I can't," said the negro. "I only got one leg and one arm." Which was true.

Westminster's Bells.
It is only on very rare occasions that the peal of the Westminster abbey bells is heard; but on Princess Mary's wedding day the bells in the north-west tower added their joyful notes to the proceedings. The tenor bell is very old, dating from 1430, and two of the others were presented by Gabriel Goodman, a dean of Westminster in Queen Elizabeth's time. The octave was incomplete, however, until some little time ago, when two additional bells were added; and the existing six were at the same time rehung and tuned. The peal rung on February 28, which consisted of just over 5,000 changes, promises therefore to be of exceptional interest as the first full one heard from the abbey bells.

Tact Vs. Talent.
Talent is something, but tact is everything. It is not a sixth sense, but it is the life of all the five. It is the open eye, the quick ear, the judging taste, the lively touch. It is the surmounter of all difficulties, the remover of all obstacles. Tact makes no false steps; hits the right nail on the head; loses no time; takes all hints; and by keeping his eye on the weather cock is ready to take advantage of every wind that blows.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS ON MONDAY

The last regular meeting of the American Legion until September will be held in Elks hall on Monday night, May 22nd. A special program has been provided including splendid speaker from Minneapolis.

The Poppy Day committee will report the work being done in conjunction with the Women's Auxiliary.

The Legion Executive committee has recommended to the Legion organization that a membership drive be put on during the next sixty days and that a prize of a trip to New Orleans be given to the man bringing in the most new members. This trip is to the National convention of the American Legion at New Orleans in October. Because of the prize being put up, the membership drive will undoubtedly be a success as several of the members have already announced their intention of winning the trip.

"Cardigan" the famous moving picture that the State Department of the American Legion in Minnesota has purchased, is booked for Brainerd on May 29th and 30th. Chairman Clyde E. Parker of this committee will name his various sub-committees at this meeting. Funds from this picture will go to the Memorial hospital to be erected at Rochester. This hospital will serve all ex-service men free of charge if they are unable to pay.

A report of the Commanders and Adjutants' meeting in Minneapolis on May 5th and 6th will be made. Chairman Fred Errington of the Entertainment committee has also provided some real entertainment for Monday and promises to put on another of his famous good feeds.

Every ex-service man is invited to attend this meeting and should make it a point to be on hand.

Convenient Roost.

MAY 23 BIRTHDAY OF OUR COUNTY

Name Came Originally From an Ojibway Name Meaning "Raven Feather River"

COUNTY ORGANIZED MCH. 3, 1870

Crow Wing County First Established May 23, 1857—No Celebration Marks Anniversary

May 23 will mark the sixty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of twelve counties of the state. No special programs will be held because of this event, according to information obtained from the staff of the Minnesota Historical society.

These twelve counties, although not the oldest in the state, are among the pioneer state units which were established in Minnesota's territorial days. The oldest counties in the state were established October 27, 1849. They were Ramsey, Benton and Dakota. Pennington county is the most recently established, being formed and organized November 23, 1910.

The counties which will be sixty-five years old on May 23 are Aitkin, Anoka, Carlton, Cottonwood, Crow Wing, Jackson, Martin, Mille Lacs, Murray, Nobles, Pipestone and Rock.

Aitkin county, established May 23, 1857 and organized June 30, 1871, was named for William Alexander Aitkin, a fur trader with the Ojibway Indians.

Anoka, Dakota or Sioux

The name of Anoka county was taken from the town of Anoka, which was first settled in 1851-52. Anoka is a Dakota or Sioux word, meaning "on both sides." This was chosen because the town was laid out on both sides of the Rum river.

Carlton county was organized three years following its establishment and was named in honor of Reuben B. Carlton, one of the first settlers of Fond du Lac.

Cottonwood county derived its name from the Cottonwood river.

Crow Wing Early County

The Ojibway name, Kagiwigun, or Gagagwigwun, according to some translators meaning "raven feather river" and later freely translated by the settlers as "Crow Wing," was applied to the county bearing this name. The county was organized on March 3, 1870, following its establishment May 23, 1857.

Historians are unanimous in their belief that Jackson county derived its name from Henry Jackson, the first merchant in St. Paul.

Martin county, according to the concurrent testimony of its best informed early citizens, was named in honor of Henry Martin, who, when the county was established, was a resident of Mankato.

"A Thousand Lakes"

Mille Lacs county was named because of the numerous lakes within its boundaries, the name meaning a "thousand lakes".

A resident of St. Paul of the pioneer days, William Pitt Murray, was given the honor of having a county named for him. This county is Murray county, established May 23, 1857, and organized June 17, 1872.

Nobles county, organized October 27, 1870, following its establishment thirteen years previous, was named for William H. Nobles, a member of the Minnesota territorial legislature in 1854-1856.

Pipestone county, although established May 23, 1857, and organized twenty-two years later by legislative act, approved January 27, 1879. Its name was first applied, however, by an error of the original act in 1857 to the area that is now Rock county, while the name was given to the present county of Pipestone. These counties, therefore, exchanged names by an act of legislature, February 20, 1862. The transposition was needed as Pipestone county now includes the celebrated Indian quarry of red pipe stone, and Rock county now has a prominent rock mound near Laverne, which similarly was the source of its name.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Lyceum

At the far end of the great Klondike gold rush is laid the scenes of "Buckling the Tiger," which is showing at the Lyceum theatre tonight only, with Conway Tearle as star.

Opposite the star the winsome Winifred Westover plays with all her accustomed wistfulness and appeal, as the character of Emily is one which gives her full scope for the display of her skill in characterization of emotional roles.

The play from which this picture was made, was written by May Tully and Ahmed Abdullah, and the scenario compiled by Edward J. Montague of the Selznick Scenario department. The direction was under the supervision of Henry Kolker.

Bert Lytell in "A Message from Mars"

Enter Bert Lytell—this time in "A Message from Mars," the Maxwell Karger production made for Metro, a screen adaptation from the successful stage play by Richard Ganthony. This picture will be seen at the Lyceum theatre, on Sunday only, as the feature attraction.

It is one thing to be well-known, and another to be well-liked, but Bert Lytell has the charming personality which unites both, and all who know his versatile gifts will make the pilgrimage again in the expectation—and 'tis an expectation never disappointed—of seeing this pre-eminent star in a role that permits him to do brilliant impersonation.

The story itself is brilliant and flecked with the fantastic in sufficient measure to insure the attention of the audience without a pause. The mixture of romance and reality go to make it a really exceptional picture.

"The Man of Stone" at New Park

"The Man of Stone," a new Selznick picture now showing at the New Park theatre, is well worth the praise which was accorded it last evening by an enthusiastic house. Conway Tearle, who, with the charming support of Betty Howe and Martha Mansfield, carried the title role on his capable shoulders, has again turned a masterly characterization to his credit, as the British army captain in active colonial service in Arabia.

The picture is replete with action and local atmosphere. Hundreds of desert characters, camels and oriental paraphernalia literally saturate the scenes with their color. The spectators continually wakes up startled to find himself back in modern surroundings, at the close of the story.

"Wife Against Wife"

Pauline Starke will be seen in the leading feminine role in the Whitman Bennett-Associated First National production, "Wife Against Wife," at the New Park, Sunday only.

Miss Starke is rapidly becoming one of the most popular favorites in screenland. Her preceding vehicle, "Salvation Nell," was one of the popular film dramas of the past season.

"Peggy Puts It Over"

When Alice Calhoun, the Vitagraph star, went to Saugerties, New York, to take exteriors for "Peggy Puts It Over," which will be shown at the New Park on Monday and Tuesday, she forgot a very important piece of wearing apparel and this necessitated a delay of twenty-four hours in commencing exterior work.

Everything was in readiness to take the scene when the star arrived on the location in a pretty gingham dress.

"What's the idea, Miss Calhoun," asked Director G. V. Seyffertitz. "You are to wear trousers."

"Oh, my goodness," exclaimed Alice, "I forgot them."

A telegram was sent to New York and in twenty-four hours the costume arrived.

FEW FRILLS AND FURBELOWS

No Marked Tendency for Decorations in Frocks and Outside Dress Accessories.

Certainly there is no strong tendency for frills and furbelows in frocks and outside dress accessories at the present time. If you have seen any of the neckwear, jabots, vests, gilets, collar and cuff sets designed for wear with spring suits and frocks, you have come away with the impression that the fluff ruffle type of accessory has certainly not been revised. The keynote of all these things seems to be that struck by sport clothes. They are simple, very striking, sometimes splashy even. Then the taste for all sorts of Russian embroidery has found a fertile field for development in these vestees and other dress accessories, and they are the antithesis of frilly.

But, apparently, women must have their frills, and if they cannot get them on their outside apparel they will have them on their underclothes. At all events, there has come a turning back to the lacy, frilly type of night-gowns, chemises, combinations.

Despite the marked preference for sheer linen or cotton combined with all-white lace or embroidery that you may have observed in the makeup of recent bridal trousseaux, there is a revived interest—in indeed interest has ever waned—in underwear of crepe de chine or georgette. Often there is a combination of crepe de chine in one color with georgette in another. When blue is used in trimming panels over pink crepe de chine the effect is charming.

One of the most striking things about the new underthings is the fact that Valenciennes lace has come back to the front, pushing aside filet and other larger meshed laces.

There always will be a strongly marked difference of opinion concerning the comparative merits of all-white underthings and those showing color. Some women have recently taken to the novelty of ecru-colored "lingerie," which may be had in handkerchief linen trimmed with matching lace or in one of the sheer silk crepes.

HAVE NEW MARK OF IDENTITY

Breakfast Coats Have Begun to Disappear With Ruchings; Lace and Chiffon Taking Place.

Breakfast coats have begun to disappear with ruchings, which have long been an inseparable part of this boudoir garment; at least 'tis so among the more exclusive mode. Instead, little ruffles of lace or chiffon, or narrow flat lace insertions are giving these long popular breakfast coats a new characterization. More frilly fluff are these essentially feminine garments, which is as it should be in the realm of negligees.

The more tailored boudoir garments, however, have a large and devoted following and these are being trimmed with self-material in narrow fold, applied in scrolls, rosettes and lattice work.

When warm weather comes, the breakfast coat in the sheer cotton materials will give summer comfort. Fancy dimly weaves and printed volles and all the other soft summer materials make charming negligees. These are finished with colored organdie fold trimmings, or raveled-out silk ruches or simple pipings and, of course, lace and sheer cottons are always inseparable.
